“The Story of South Beach on Bicycle”

South Beach is one of those rare locales where every turn reveals a new visual treasure. The narrative of this glamorous resort in the sun is artfully retold as your cycling host navigates the streets and pathways of the island. Great stories abound as a century of history is woven into now-famous streets, buildings and parks. At one point we will be following a trail along the beach, at another, hearing a concise and illuminating timeline of Art Deco architecture. Through gardens and residential neighborhoods, past museums and pausing to check out a historic hotel lobby, we make South Beach “experts” out of first-time visitors and long-term residents alike. An unforgettable experience, this tour is must-see for those who enjoy a leisurely and healthy biking pace.
